CTG NAMED TO HEALTHCARE INFORMATICS ANNUAL RANKING OF THE TOP 100 HEALTHCARE IT PROVIDERS

BUFFALO, N.Y. — June 16, 2010 — CTG (NASDAQ: CTGX), an international information technology (IT) solutions and services company, announced today that it was named by Healthcare Informatics to its annual ranking of the 100 largest healthcare IT providers, the Healthcare Informatics 100 (HCI 100). CTG was named to the HCI 100 list based on its 2009 revenue from the healthcare provider market. In addition to other large healthcare IT consulting firms, the list includes the leading hospital information systems companies and other healthcare-related software firms. CTG ranked 69th on the list overall and 7th of the companies generating 100% of 2009 healthcare provider revenue from consulting services. The HCI 100 list appears in the June 2010 issue of Healthcare Informatics, a leading CIO-level publication published by the Vendome Group, that specializes in issues of system selection, project management, enterprise integration, change management, and budgeting for healthcare organizations.

“We are pleased to again be recognized by Healthcare Informatics as one of the 100 largest suppliers of healthcare IT to the provider market. CTG was also recently cited in Information Week as one of the top three firms for healthcare organizations looking for help in implementing electronic medical records and other health IT investments,” said James R. Boldt, CTG Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. “At 27% of total revenue in 2009 and in the 2010 first quarter, healthcare is a very significant part of CTG’s overall business and the major focus of our growth efforts. Electronic medical records projects are currently the primary driver of growth in our healthcare business representing 11% of CTG’s total revenue in the 2010 first quarter.”

Healthcare Informatics compiled the HCI 100 list based on 2009 healthcare IT revenue from companies supporting the technology needs of healthcare organizations.
